EUROCASH

ANALYTICAL REPORT - SUMMARY

We see as attractive current price levels of Eurocash's shares and we rate Accumulate and set our target price to 21,0 PLN/share. We hope the sentiment will become more positive due to expected positive dynamics of retail sales in food category in coming months. We expect the company will continue the growth of adjusted results in coming quarters. In H2'20 there should be seen effect of optimisation in EC Distribution/EC Alcohols. In case of accomplishment of our estimates, Eurocash would be traded with a discount vs peer group and EV/EBITDA IFRS 16 = 6,3-6,2x in 2020-21. We point out strong cash position and safe level of Net debt/EBITDA (according to MSR = 1,8x after Q1'20).

Company profile

Eurocash is a leading wholesale distributor of fast moving consumer goods. It operates in wholesale food distribution (it possesses c.a. 26% market share; it operates through cash & carry and distribution) and in retail segment, in which it develops Delikatery Centrum markets. In addition to this, the company conducts new projects e.g. Duży Ben and Kontigo.

Valuation summary

We base our valuation on two methods: discounted cash flows model (70% contribution in the final valuation), which implies share price 22,2 PLN and peer valuation (30% share in the final valuation), which indicates target price 18,2 PLN. We set the target price 21,0 PLN.

Forecasts and multiples

We expect that in Q2'20 the company will reach 6,4 bln PLN of sales, c.a. 209 mln PLN EBITDA MSSF 16 and 24 mln PLN of net profit. In '20 we forecast c.a. 25,5 bln PLN of sales, 787 mln PLN EBITDA and 47 mln PLN of adjusted net income. In 2021 we estimate 26,5 bln PLN of sales, 800 mln PLN EBITDA and 79 mln PLN of net income. Currently, Eurocash trades at EV/EBITDA'20 MSSF 16 = 6,4x and P/E'19 = 55x.

Risk factors: I) COVID-19 II) Loss of sales in tobacco division. III) Macro environment. IV) Increase of wages and lack of employees. V) Market competition (mainly because of the discounters). VI) Legal changes (Sunday ban; turnover tax). VII) Potential acquisitions and their integration. VIII) Seasonality of financial results. IX) Loss of PKN Orlen contract. X) Change of excise tax.

 Accumulate – we believe that the security will reach the target price in the recommended period, which exceeds the current market price (in the range of +5 to + 14.99%);
 Hold – we believe that a security in the recommended period will fluctuate around the target price, which is close to the current market price (in the range from -4.99% to + 4.99%);

 Sell – we believe that a security in the recommended period will reach the target price, which is significantly lower than the market price (suggested erosion of the value exceeds 15%).
 Target price – the theoretical price which, in our opinion, should reach a security in the recommended period; This price is the result of the company's value (eg based on DCF, comparative and other valuations), market conditions and the industry as well as other factors subjectively considered by the analyst.
 Recommendations made by BDM are binding for 12 months from the issue date or until the target level is reached, unless they are updated during this period of time.

The strengths and weaknesses of the valuation methods used in the report:

DCF – the most popular and the most effective of the valuation methods - it is based on the discounting of future cash flows generated by the company. The disadvantage is the high sensitivity to changes in the basic financial parameters forecast in the model (interest rates, exchange rates, profits, residual value).
 DDM – the method is based on discounting future cash flows from dividends. The advantage of the valuation is the inclusion of future financial results and cash flows from dividends. The main disadvantages are the high sensitivity to changes in the basic financial parameters forecasted in the model (capital cost, profits, residual value) and the risk of changing the dividend payment policy.
 Comparative – the method is based on current and forecasted market multipliers of companies from the industry or related industries, which better than DCF shows the current market situation. The main disadvantages are the difficulty in choosing the right companies for comparison, the risk of ineffective valuation of companies compared at a given moment, as well as high volatility (along with price fluctuations).

To prepare this analytical report BDM has not considered individual needs or situations of customers. BDM is not obliged to guarantee that a financial instrument or financial instruments covered by this report are appropriate for a given investor.

Opinions of an analyst and any recommendations included in this report neither constitute an investment, legal, accounting or tax advice or a statement that any investment strategy is adequate or appropriate because of individual circumstances concerning the customer, nor constitute personal recommendation.

The analysis is for information purposes only and does not constitute an advertisement or an offer or an invitation to subscribe or purchase financial instruments.

An investor should be aware that each investment decision in the capital market is subject to numerous risks that finally can result in a financial loss suffered by him. The return rate on individual investments can fluctuate depending on various factors beyond the control of the investor. Therefore, a customer who makes a single investment decision should not only check currency and correctness of individual assumptions made by the analyst in the report but also to have an independent assessment and own analysis (also based on scenarios other than the ones presented in the report) taking into consideration the level of acceptable risk. When deciding on activity on the capital market the investor should take into consideration the fact that the investment portfolio structure (diversification of investment through possessing more than one financial instrument) can reduce risk exposure to an individual instrument bringing a negative rate of return in a given period. At the same time, however, it can lead to limitation of a positive rate of return the investor could achieve in the case of a single financial instrument in a given time period. The investor should be aware that the investment portfolio structure and any investment strategy for the stock market do not guarantee the achievement of a positive rate of return and do not protect him against final loss.

For the first time this report has been made available to the public on 03.06.2020 (08:00 CEST). Date of preparing the report is the date of making it accessible. Before the recommendation was made accessible, information included in it had been confidential.

In the opinion of BDM this report has been prepared observing principles of methodological correctness and objectivity on the basis of sources available to the public which BDM considers reliable.
